

The Leibniz Institute for Financial Research SAFE – Sustainable Architecture for Finance in Europe – at Frankfurt am Main, Germany, promotes research and independent policy advice on all aspects dealing with the structure and functioning of the financial system. It is committed to contributing to the strengthening of a sustainable and resilient financial architecture that promotes innovation and serves the needs of the economy and its citizens. Researchers from the fields of Economics, Law, and Political Science collaborate at SAFE.

Based on a joint appointment process, SAFE and the Faculty of Economics and Business at Goethe University Frankfurt invite applications for the following position as civil servant or public employee starting at the earliest possible date:

Professor (W1, tenure track) of Sustainable Finance

This is a tenure-track position for an initial six-year term. If tenure is approved at the end of the term, the position will be made permanent and promotion to the rank of Full Professor (W2) will be granted. This position is open to individuals in the early stages of their academic career.

We are seeking a junior scholar in the area of Sustainable or Green Finance. The ideal candidate will contribute actively to the research activities of SAFE with the aim to produce excellent research output in the field of Sustainable Finance and neighboring areas.

Candidates should possess the capacity for effective teaching at graduate and undergraduate levels. PhD teaching is in English and BA or MSc courses can be taught in either German or English. The teaching load is two hours per week during the academic semester.

The formal hiring requirements are defined in sections 67, 68, and 70 of the Hessian Higher Education Act (Hessisches Hochschulgesetz).

SAFE and Goethe University are equal opportunity employers, committed to diversity and inclusion. In particular, we are welcoming applications by qualified women and people with a migrant background. A special emphasis is placed on creating and sustaining a family-friendly work and research environment. Where applicants are otherwise equally qualified, preference is given to candidates with disabilities or equivalent. The same applies to women in fields in which they are under-represented.

To apply, please submit a motivation letter, a CV, a list of publications, an overview of your research and teaching activities, transcripts and a selection of recent course evaluations, as well as contact information for professional references that we may contact if you are shortlisted for the position online at <https://berufungsportal.uni-frankfurt.de> by 15 November 2023 in a single PDF document (maximum 6 MB). Interviews will take place also (but not exclusively) at the European Job Market for Economists (EJME 2023) that will be held virtually between 11 and 14 December 2023.

If you have any questions, please contact Florian Heider at heider@safe-frankfurt.de. Further information about SAFE: www.safe-frankfurt.de. Further information about the appointment process, the legal framework and data protection: www.professorship-vacancies.uni-frankfurt.de.