

The Leibniz Institute for Financial Research SAFE – Sustainable Architecture for Finance in Europe – (www.safe-frankfurt.de) promotes high-quality research and independent policy advice on all aspects dealing with the structure and functioning of the financial system. It is committed to contributing to the strengthening of a sustainable and resilient financial architecture that promotes innovation and serves the needs of the economy and its citizens. Researchers from the fields of economics, law, and political science collaborate at SAFE.

The Leibniz Institute SAFE is seeking to fill the position of a Student Assistant

in the area of Household Finance (m/f/d)
(40-80 hours/month)

We are looking for a student assistant to support SAFE researchers in the Department of Household Finance (Professor Dr. Christine Laudenbach) within the framework of the Leibniz project “The Gender Wealth Gap”. The project focuses on (1) documenting how gender differences in saving and investment decisions can lead to (wealth) inequalities and on (2) identifying tools and mechanisms that can help to reduce the gap.

The tasks will include literature studies, data acquisition, preparation of empirical analyses, and the preparation of experiments and field studies.

Your Profile

- Master-student of/in finance, economics, business, computer science, applied statistics, data science or a related discipline
- Interested in (Household) Finance topics
- Very good knowledge of the German and English language
- Ideally first experience in academic work in the area of Finance (e.g. Seminars or Bachelor Thesis)
- Good knowledge of MS Office
- Statistical software knowledge, (e.g. STATA) and ideally first programming experience (Python, R etc.)
- Excellent organizational skills and analytical thinking, ability to work independently, and high reliability

We offer

The infrastructure of a modern research center with excellent contacts to the scientific and financial community. You will be working in a very attractive working environment in the House of Finance at Goethe University and an enthusiastic team of colleagues. The position is for 6 months from October 15th, 2022, on average 40-80 hours per month (the temporal distribution of working hours is negotiable.).

Your application: Please submit your application, together with the usual credentials (CV, letter of motivation, transcripts etc.), by mail to Leibniz Institute for Financial Research SAFE, House of Finance, Theodor-W.-Adorno-Platz 3, 60323 Frankfurt am Main, Germany or electronically by email to applications@safe-frankfurt.de by adding APPLICATION Student Assistant in “Household Finance” in the subject line of your email.

Deadline for the submission is September 1, 2022

Should you have any questions please contact Michaela Peist, e-mail: office_laudenbach@safe-frankfurt.de